The decision for a glass kettle with or without LED is only an important point on the way to the purchase decision. You have to consider a few more points in which the different models differ. 3.1. "I not to grasp di I can" should never say your kettle Tchibo had to call a glass kocher in 2010, in which the handle could go. Around 30 users had broken through this defect. This is indicated by the Stiftung Warentest in a message. The Stiftung Warentest last tested kettle in 2012. Not a glass kettle among the products compared to Guerra. Therefore, we can unfortunately not show you a glass kettle test winner. A sufficient facility is important so that you can always use the kettle as you want. Most glass kettles hold 1.7 liters. While some are even larger, small kettles only have a barrel of 1.5 liters. For whom the volume does not play the great role, there are even 1 liter glass kettle for the. That may be enough for a single household, in which water is only cooked for a cup of tea every now and then. On the other hand, it doesn't hurt when the glass kettle is a bit larger. Cosi- can also cook a whole jug tea when visiting comes. For families Tasson we generally become a number of at least 1.7 liters. Travel kettles sometimes only hold 500 ml. However, such models are usually made of plastic and not glass. 3.2. More power for fast water cooking The performance of a kettle determines how quickly you can cook water in it. The performance in turn, in turn, shows glass kettle tests, with the watt number. Most glass kettles have at least 2,000 watts. Some even 2,200 or 2,400. Cappello only a kettle Watt, you have to calculate up to three minutes to bring a liter of water to a boil. At 2,200 watts, the kettle is reduced only about a minute. 3.3. With these extras, a temperature display can be very good with these extras. The other properties of the device should also play a role in a good glass kettle test. Some features of the equipment make a model a meal test winner among the glass kettles at 360 °: you can find this information on many kettles. It means that it does not matter in which direction the stove is put on the base. Overheating protection: an important safety functionality is the protection of overheating. It has a role when the stove is accidentally on even if there is no water. The kettle could therefore overheat and leave a short circuit. Maintenance function: this function is practical, which warms the water for a maximum of 20 minutes. If you put the water and then you are distracted by a phone call, then you still have hot water for your tire. Temperature choice: if a glass kettle has a temperature selection, it is possible to set in advance how hot the water should be. The drinkers of Tè in particular attribute great importance to this function. Many teas should not be poured at all with boiling water, but for example with 80 degree hot water. A temperature selection is one of the most popular extras for glass kettle. In the event that you have not yet thought of this function, you can discover the advantages and disadvantages of the choice of temperature in the following table. It is possible to set a desired temperature. The water is not heated unnecessarily, which saves time and electricity. You don't have to let the water meet again after cooking, are generally very appealing. It must be ensured that the device is harmoniously introduced into your own kitchen. There are design kettles in a very noble look or kettle in retro style. If you buy your kettle on the Internet, you can usually look at different images of the device from different perspectives.
